

MEMORANDUM

9/23/01

The U.S. and the Free World won WWII with patience. We won the Cold War with patience. And we will win the war against terrorism with patience.

In the case of WWII the U.S. did not engage in a single activity for months after Pearl Harbor. They planned, got the architecture in place, developed the capabilities, and then moved patiently and inexorably.

DHR/azn

092301.07