

Bruce Clark

July 24, 1974

✓

We should do something around here about what we do in a crisis or when a NAC is called. When that Sunday night NAC was called nobody called Bill Hamilton, Bob Goldwin -- indeed I didn't get a call until five minutes of nine for a nine-thirty NAC. It seems to me you ought to think through what the Duty Officer's job ought to be in such a situation and give us a proposal so that that type of problem won't come up again. Certainly Hamilton should have been called.

Situation clarified

DR

