

Gene McAuliffe

8/6/73

Please see me on the subject of enriched uranium. It appears that there is about $600 million worth being sold in 1972, and it is anticipated that it will be about 1.5 billion by the end of the decade.

The two principal suppliers are the US and Russia, and apparently there is some debate as to whether Europe will develop a capability.

I wonder how this might fit in burden sharing.

Donald Rumsfeld

