SUBJECT: Prime Minister Allawi's Conversation with President Bush

Prime Minister Allawi spoke with the President today and thanked him for the work you and John Negroponte have done for the Iraqi people. The Prime Minister also mentioned how closely he works with you and thanked the President for sending such a good man to help the people of Iraq -- he was most complimentary of you and his relationship with you.

I thought you would want to be aware of that. I'm not surprised!
